Funds for research abroad
UGH1 2017-18 GloCal Health Fellowship

The GloCal Health Fellowship Training Program has four principal components:

- Research Project - 12-months, at 1 of 20 international partner sites
- Mentorship - A strong, interdisciplinary mentored research experience
- Global Health Education - online or onsite courses
- Career Development to attain short-term goals & transition to the next stage

Fellowships, begin in July, and provide:

- 12 consecutive months of stipend support
- Health insurance
- Modest research training costs (approximately $15,000)
- Travel costs to and from the international field site
• Support for online courses
• A weeklong orientation at the NIH in Washington, DC

Learn about GloCal

GloCal is recruiting fellows interested in HIV research, non-HIV-related mental health research, and other global health priority research areas such as women’s health, planetary health, and NCDs. Explore past research projects, and work with GloCal mentors to define your proposal prior to the Nov 1 deadline.

Explore past GloCal projects

The GloCal Health Fellowship Program includes more than 160 top-tier global health research faculty mentors from the four UC GloCal Consortium campuses (UCSF, UC San Diego, UCLA, UC Davis) and the 20 affiliated international institutions.

GloCal mentors

The GloCal Health Fellowship provides aspiring global health researchers with outstanding interdisciplinary education and training in innovative research designed to improve health for populations around the world. A career development fellowship sponsored by the National Institutes of Health (NIH) Fogarty International Center (FIC), as well as the University of California Global Health Institute, this program supports awarded fellows from all 10 UC campuses as well as 20 affiliated international sites across 17 countries. Questions? Contact Kimberly Bale: kimberly.bale@ucsf.edu