Camaraderie

The #1 reason applicants choose UCLA is our camaraderie. Residents feel supported by each other and, importantly, by program leadership. Residency is a challenging (yet rewarding) experience no matter where you go. What makes the difference is having supportive colleagues, many of whom will become your lifelong friends.

Benefits

Union that advocates for all residents at UCLA, including the following benefits:

- $12,000 per year housing stipend
- $3,000 per year educational fund for PGY-1
- $500 per year educational fund for PGY-2+
- $1,000 per year educational fund for PGY-2+

Patient populations

We provide care for patients from all walks of life and with a wide breadth of pathologies. Training at UCLA equips you with the ability to work in any clinical environment and with diverse patient populations.

Scholarship

UCLA residents have a reputation for clinical excellence, scholarship, and leadership, which allows them to match to fellowships and obtain employment positions of their choice.

Residents

Residents come from a large variety of backgrounds but nonetheless form a unified group dedicated to patient care, scholarship, and the larger community.
