UCLA SPORTS MEDICINE FELLOWSHIP
PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

https://www.uclahealth.org/family-medicine/sports-medicine

- Established, dynamic teaching faculty involved in various clinical and research interests & actively involved in national leadership organizations
  - CJ Duffaut, M.D.
  - Dena Florczyk, M.D.
  - Joshua Goldman, M.D., M.B.A.
  - Gary Green, M.D.
  - Emily Miller, M.D.
  - Aurelia Nattiv, M.D.
  - Jeremy Ng, M.D.
  - Marissa Vasquez-Machuca, M.D.
  - Daniel Vigil, M.D.
  - Marissa Vasquez-Machuca, M.D.
  - Jessica Zarndt, D.O.

- Well established, ACGME accredited program with more than 70% of graduates pursuing academic careers as clinicians, teachers, and researchers

- One or two years of fellowship training – your choice!
  - 12-month core program
  - Optional 24-month pathway for those desiring more advanced training in clinical research and faculty development

- Extensive Training in Musculoskeletal Ultrasound
  - Hands-on longitudinal curriculum led by Sports Medicine faculty
  - Attendance at the UCLA Musculoskeletal Ultrasound Workshop and Cadaver Lab
  - Experience in US-guided injections and diagnostic US

- Wide range of clinical experience including:
  - UCLA Comprehensive Sports Medicine Clinic
  - UCLA Arthur Ashe Student Health Center: Sports Medicine Clinic
  - Pediatric Sports Medicine & Fracture Care
  - UCLA Bone Health Practice & DXA Interpretation
  - Musculoskeletal radiology training
  - Musculoskeletal anatomy course
  - Acute ski injury clinic at winter mountain resort
  - Specialty rotations with expert UCLA faculty
Team physician experience includes:
- UCLA Dept. of Intercollegiate Athletics
- Los Angeles Lakers
- Los Angeles Dodgers
- Local High Schools

Sports medicine clinical research curriculum

Weekly small group teaching sessions with faculty

Weekly Multidisciplinary Sports Medicine Conference attended by the Departments of Family Medicine, Orthopaedic Surgery, Musculoskeletal Radiology, Rehabilitation Specialists, and Intercollegiate Athletics.

Medical coverage of annual special events including:
- NCAA and PAC 12 championship competitions
- Los Angeles Marathon
- Ironman California 70.3 Triathlon (Oceanside)
- Jackie Joyner Kersee/Rafer Johnson Invitational Track Meet
- Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA)

Multiple teaching opportunities with residents, medical students, community physicians, and students of the allied health professions